Wyalkatchem Travellers Park is a caravan and RV park in the town of Wyalkatchem, in WA's Central Wheatbelt, about two hours' drive from Perth on the Wheatbelt Way Trail Drive.

Our Facilities

The park offers 8 ensuite caravan sites each with their own individual ensuite, plus 14 powered sites and 10 camp sites with access to an ablution block containing 3 ensuite-style units (shower and toilet in each), one of which is wheelchair accessible. Sites are large and easy to access, making the park RV-friendly even for the biggest rigs, with most sites drive-through. There's also a laundry, camp kitchen, free electric BBQ, and a dump station. The park is pet-friendly if you're in your own RV or caravan, though this doesn't extend to the on-site accommodation. Pricing sits around $35–42 a night depending on site type, based on recent reviews. Wheatbelttourism + 2

History

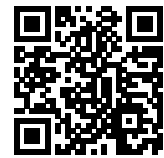

After being closed for several years, the park officially reopened on 8 April 2022, now run by hosts who describe it as "the friendliest little RV park in Australia."

What our guests say

Reviews consistently highlight the hospitality and cleanliness. A recurring favourite is the nightly happy hour — guests mention a 5-6pm happy hour daily with nibbles supplied by Michelle and her team, which brings campers together for a chat and a few laughs. Facilities are frequently described as immaculately clean, and the park is an easy walk into town. Trustindex

The town itself

Wyalkatchem is worth exploring beyond the park too. There's a Water Wise Garden beside colourful murals depicting town life in the early 1900s, and nearby Korrelocking Reserve and Yorkakine Rock offer picturesque picnic spots that are especially striking after good winter rains bring out wildflowers and orchids. The region is also popular with hang gliding enthusiasts, who've reached heights of up to 3,500 metres and flown hundreds of kilometres — worth timing a visit for January or February to catch the WA State Hang Gliding Championships.

Your host, Michelle and her small team of helpers have a lifetime of service behind their efforts to turn this RV park into something unique for weary travellers. Make it a point to book a stay with us, and sample our serenity and the now somewhat famous 'Happy Hour' between 5:00pm and 6:00pm daily. You won't be disappointed.
